D10 Trust Federal Government

People have different ideas about how much they can trust government to do what is right. These ideas don't refer to Democrats or Republicans in particular, but just to the government in general. We want to see how you feel about this for each of the levels of government.

How much of the time do you think you can trust the federal government in Washington to do what is right -- nearly always or most of the time, some of the time, seldom, or almost never?

State Health Care Plans

Next, I have three questions about state policies and laws related to retirement benefits.

Currently, Michigan negotiates separate retirement health care plans for different groups of public employees such as state police officers, teachers and school employees, and state legislators.

Should the state continue this practice or should the state establish one retirement health plan that covers all state employees?

Health Care Savings Accounts

Currently, a worker in Michigan can open a health care savings account using pre-tax dollars through their employer. The funds can only be used for health care expenses and insurance. These accounts are not transferable upon death and any funds left at the end of the calendar year revert to the state.

Should the state continue this practice or should the state change the law so that health care savings accounts can accumulate over time and are transferable?

ta6 Continue Tax Exempt

Charitable organizations provide many social, health, and educational services to the public that were once provided by the government. Under Michigan law, charitable organizations are exempt from paying certain taxes because their services benefit the public. In your opinion, should charitable organizations continue to be exempt from paying certain taxes?
